

Dear Stakeholder,

I hope that you and your families have kept safe and well in these difficult times of COVID-19.

Since we wrote to you at the start of April, we have begun planning our next phase of engagement so that you can help further inform our final recommendations to Welsh Government on the future of travel in south east Wales.

Thus far we have made detailed use of your valuable input to last year's stakeholder workshop sessions in helping formulate our Emerging Conclusions Report, which will be published in July. A copy will be emailed directly to you.

Following publication, we would appreciate your feedback on elements of this report and invite you to participate in one of our digital sessions that we will be holding during the summer.

We are looking for a single representative from your organisation to participate in these sessions and would be grateful if you could confirm your representative's availability for the following dates:
